

Every year in America, far too many teenagers are injured or killed in automobile collisions that could have been avoided. To address this critical problem, a group of devoted advanced driver training professionals have established a nonprofit organization called the National Institute of Vehicle Dynamics (NIVD).

NIVD's mission is to reduce automobile collisions and fatalities by eliminating driver error – through training and education.

Our instructors teach police officers how to stay safe behind the wheel. Now they are taking on their toughest training challenge, America's teens.

NIVD offers classroom & in-car advanced driver training for experienced, novice, corporate and SUV drivers.

Allow our instructors who have numerous years of law enforcement experience to develop a driver safety program for you or your fleet of drivers. Find out how to start your safety program today at:

BEYOND DRIVER'S EDUCATION WITH

NIVD

National Institute of Vehicle Dynamics

Classroom sessions explain advanced driver training techniques and theory behind each training exercise. Professional law enforcement instructors, licensed by Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration (MVA), teach the in-car Drive2Survive® curriculum as the next level of driver's education, behind-the-wheel training.

To reduce incidents of panic during emergency situations and driver error, in-car instructors demonstrate the exercises while students ride along. Once instructor demonstration is completed, students drive as instructors personally coach them through the various training courses.

The Drive2Survive® Curriculum introduces drivers to the three modes of Advance Safety & Collision Avoidance Training with true-to-life situations in a controlled, safe environment.

Proactive

Tips and strategies to keep you out of potential collision situations. This is "defensive driving." This section demonstrates how to maximize your ocular driving techniques.

Reactive

This section covers what to do when your proactive skills have not kept you out of a dangerous situation. Here you will find out what to do to avoid a collision by maintaining or regaining vehicle control.

Collision Avoidance

No matter how good you may become at proactive or reactive driving, there is no guarantee that it will always work. This section demonstrates reaction techniques that may reduce the level of impact when a collision is unavoidable.

Driver's will learn:

- Why ABS has not reduced crashes
- How our instincts work against us
- The "Four Deadly Mistakes"
- How to minimize injury when a crash is unavoidable
- The ultimate dangers of driving too fast
- Plus much more, including skids, off-road recoveries and steering techniques

While vehicles have become much safer, drivers have not. Drive2Survive® training is offered for the sole purpose of keeping you safe on our increasingly dangerous modern roadways.
